THE WORLD OF SOCIETY

MRS. ROOSEVELT HOME FROM HER SOUTHERN TRIP.

Plans of Diplomats for the Summer Season—Timely Personal Notes.

Mrs. Roosevelt and three of her children, who have been away on a short cruise in Florida waters, returned to Washington yesterday. Mrs. Roosevelt greatly enjoyed the outing.

The British ambassador and Lady Dundas will occupy the Kinloch cottage at Lenox the coming summer.

The marriage of Miss Ethel Peters of Philadelphia and Capt. Smedley D. Butler, U. S. M. C., will take place in June.

The Cuban minister and Mme. Quesada and their two children will sail Thursday for Europe, to spend some time in travel.

The American ambassador, Gen. Clayton, the retiring Spanish minister, Marquis de Nantouillet, and the Netherlands minister, Mr. van Swinderen, the guests of honor at a state banquet at the National Palace last week in the City of Mexico, to the two first as a farewell compliment and to the latter as a welcoming courtesy, are being also accredited to Mexico as minister as well as to this country.

The minister of Haiti and Mme. Leger have taken for the summer a cottage at Deer Park, where they have spent several other summers. Their sons, who are in Paris at school, will spend their vacation with their parents, as will Miss Kathleen Bourke, their attractive young niece, whose birth was made the reason for a very pleasant informal gathering yesterday at the legation.

A most interesting figure in Washington society has passed away by the death of Miss Margaret Edes, whose serious illness from pneumonia was noted in The Star. She died last night about 8 o'clock at the Hotel Brighton, Atlantic City, where she had been staying several weeks to recuperate from a slight attack of rheumatism and grip that had kept her a prisoner nearly all the winter. Her home on K street was a popular place with hundreds and where it was her frequent pleasure to entertain young people, children and grandchildren of her old acquaintances. Her New Year has been long and busy as among the most enjoyable gatherings of society each winter, being especially attractive to the younger set. Her health last December did not permit her to leave the city, and later that she felt able to carry out her intention. Then the tea, entirely for young people, was held at her home, 1212 3d street, N. W. Miss Edes belonged to an old Washington family, whose properties and early homes were in Georgetown.

Her remains will be brought to this city today.

Miss Helen Harney, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles H. Harney and niece of the late William C. Whitney, was married Saturday in New York to Arthur S. Harney, son of Alexander N. S. Harney, of the Church of the Holy Trinity, New York.

The church was canopied with masses of greens and genets and banded with white ribbons and other spring flowers. The nave of the church was virtually transformed into a bower, and the majority of the guests were resplendent in the costumes of the season. The bride, Miss Harney, was in a white satin, flounced in point lace, a white applique veil and quantities of diamonds. Her bridesmaids wore apple-green taffeta, trimmed with ruchings of the same material. The brides were made with high corset belts trimmed with flat bows of green velvet, ruffled with rucheings of buckles. They wore picture hats of white chiffon and lace, made with flat crowns, hand-painted with pink and blue, and with white ostrich plumes and green velvet ribbons. They carried apple blossoms and wore the bride's bouquets, pendants of diamonds suspended to fine gold chains.

Mrs. P. S. Garrettson of 1842 15th street northwest is on a visit of two months to her daughter, Mrs. L. T. Bartlett of Rahway, N. J.

A large number of friends and relatives were present Wednesday at the home of Dr. and Mrs. Frank Maples at Saumsville, Va., when their attractive daughter, Katherine Erma, became the bride of Mr. Holmes Crabb of this city. The Rev. W. J. Cooke of Atlanta, Ga., officiating. The bride was attended in a beautiful princess gown of white tulle over silk, and carried a shower bouquet of bride's roses. Miss Beaudette, sister of the bride, was maid of honor. Mr. Wade Crabb, brother of the groom, was best man. Mr. and Mrs. Crabb were the recipients of many hand-painted cards and gifts. The ceremony was held at 10 o'clock in the morning at the home of the bride, where they took a ship for Jamaica. They will reside in this city.

Mrs. John Joy Edson, Jr., who has been at her former home in Pittsburgh lately, was the guest of honor at the wedding of her daughter, Mrs. Bennett, her mother, gave an afternoon party for children in honor of her young grandson, who accompanied his mother.

Col. and Mrs. A. L. Towar are visiting Col. and Mrs. E. A. Koerber, 2234 Q street.

Invitations are out for the past week for the wedding reception of Miss Marian Bell and Mr. David G. Fairchild at Twin Oaks, Woodley lane, Tuesday, April 25, at 4 o'clock. The ceremony will occur a half hour earlier. Rev. Mr. Hamill will officiate and Mr. Charles L. Hamill will be best man.

The Violet Pleasure Club spent a delightful time at the home of Miss Nettie Kluge, 132 E. 12th street, Friday evening. Interesting games were played, after which refreshments were served. Among those present were Miss Gladys Miller, Mr. Leroy Kluge, John Green, Miss Nettie Kluge, Mr. Alfred Buchanan, Miss Irene Godron and Mr. Ralph Steidman.

Mr. and Mrs. Westinghouse entertained at dinner last night the French ambassador and Mme. Fuserand, the controller of the currency and Mme. Bideley, Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Spencer, Mr. and Mrs. David R. McKee, Miss Boardman, Major Von Eichelshausen, attaché of the German embassy, Charles H. Woodhill and Miss Wadsworth, who is their house guest.

Mrs. Burton Macafee expects to return home the latter part of this week from an extended visit to her former home in Montclair, N. J., where she is sister-in-law of Adirondack. After Easter Mrs. Macafee will be at home, informally, her usual days during April and May.

Mrs. Grace Greenwood Andrews has issued invitations to the marriage of her daughter, Bessie Clara, to Mr. Arthur Bryan Marvin, Jr., of Schenectady, N. Y. The ceremony will take place in the apartments of the bride at the Everett at 4 o'clock on April 24, in the presence of relatives and intimate friends. Rev. George F. Dunne of St. Stephen's officiating. The attendants are Miss Grace Colyer of New York, cousin of the bride, as maid of honor, and Mr. Francis J. Seabolt of Schenectady as best man.

Miss Blanche Brown, accompanied by Mrs. William Houston of Baltimore, is spending a week or ten days at Atlantic City, N. J.

On Saturday evening, April 8, a surprise party was given by Mrs. H. G. Ellis at her residence, No. 700 G street northeast, when a very beautiful double candlestick was presented to her. The presentation speech was made by Mr. John B. Ward. Games were indulged in, and afterward refreshments were served. Those present were Mr. and Mrs. T. Landrigan, Mr. and Mrs. William Teepe, Mr. and Mrs. W. G. Hurley, Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Ward, Mr. and Mrs. David Goumpf, Mr. and Mrs. John M. Hurley, Mr. and Mrs. John Davis, Mr. and Mrs. Robert H. Roberts, Mr. and Mrs. Garren, Mr. and Mrs. Lee Spire, Mr. and Mrs. George Siggers, Mrs. Robert Lamb, Mrs. J. E. Clarke, Mrs. Charles Adams, Mrs. Ida Longacre, Mrs. H. F. Day Nurseries.
To the Editor of The Evening Star:
Day nurseries, for the establishment of which a movement is now being made in this city, have long been a public charity by making it possible for those who are able and willing to work to do so, and it would be those who could and are not willing to work by removing the excuse. There is always some kind of work for those who are willing to do any kind of honest labor. They would enable a class of children to attend school who are now kept home to care for the younger members of the family. These children are unavoidably defrauded of their rights to an education, beside being made prematurely old by the burdens and responsibilities of life laid upon them so early.

These nurseries would send an elevating influence into these homes of poverty. What a different aspect life would have to the mother who goes home after her day's work to find two or three well-fed, clean, happy little children brought to her, to the one who goes home to find them dirty, hungry and unruly, truly helpless to change these conditions, she is hopeless, as there is no help.

The nurseries would be an incentive to a better home life and also would remove the crowded condition of the children's hospitals, for about 90 per cent of the patients are from this neglected class. Surrounding children in the home, the influence from birth to the age of seven and you will in a large measure check the tide that is sweeping the nation into juvenile delinquency, the reformatories, schools, sanitariums, etc.

This is a broad proposition, the need is infinitely broader and, we believe, vital to both the church and state. Is it not time for thinking men and women to look into this phase of life? If properly conducted, the nurseries would be a much needed reform measure in this country, and would be a step toward the peace along all reformatory lines. Large sums of money are constantly being spent for the reformation of these children. Why not apply the old adage, "An ounce of prevention, etc.," which we believe can be demonstrated by the day nurseries?

Local Club Meetings.
The annual business meeting of the Columbia Heights Art Club was held at the apartments of Miss Catherine Barlow, 14th and Princeton streets, Thursday. Twenty members responded to roll call. The president, Mrs. Evelyn Morgan, not being present, Mrs. Charles Schneider presided.

The following officers were elected for the ensuing year: Mrs. John Stokes, president; Mrs. Wolhaupter, vice president; Mrs. G. B. Schneider, recording secretary; Mrs. Lacy, treasurer; Miss Catherine Barlow, corresponding secretary, and Mrs. Ada Clarke, social recorder. Mrs. James was elected director of the Federation of Women's Clubs. The same executive board of five members who served last year were re-elected, viz: Mrs. Schneider, Mrs. Whitall, Mrs. Engle, Mrs. Emerson and Mrs. Seip.

Miss Mary Barlow was unanimously elected to membership in the club. Mrs. Tower, who is leaving the city, was transferred to the associate list. Mrs. James was elected director of the work of the Federation of Women's Clubs. The next meeting of the club will be with Mrs. Pyles, Anacostia, Thursday next.
